MULTIPLE RUN-OFFS AFTER PRIMARY

Hancock County races yield few clear winners

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

The 2019 Hancock County Republican Primary yielded almost as many run-off races as it did clear winners on Tuesday.

Incumbent Hancock County Sheriff Ricky Adam won his re-election bid by a wide margin on Tuesday, defeating former Justice Court Judge Tommy Carver, Sr., with 66,710 votes to Carver's 2,854, in unofficial totals.

Current Diamondhead City Councilman Kodie Koenenn also clearly won his Republican primary bid to replace outgoing District 3 Supervisor Blaine LaFontaine, who instead ran for state Sen. Dist. 46.

Koenenn earned 1,425 votes in unofficial totals, or roughly 56 percent of the vote on Tuesday. Fred Sullivan earned 498 votes; Carl L. Necaise, 327; and Danny N. Johnson, 301.

Koenenn essentially won the post Tuesday, since there was no Democratic candidate in the race.

Incumbent District 2 Supervisor Greg Shaw prevailed Tuesday over former Supervisor Kenny Hoda, earning about 56 percent of the vote. Shaw will face independent candidate Henry Ward in the November General Election.

District 5 Supervisor Darrin "Bo" Ladner also won his primary race over challenger Diana Ladner, earning nearly 64 percent of the vote.

Theresa Ryan won the Republican nomination for District 1 Supervisor, defeating Kurt A. Necaise 659 to 596 in unofficial totals. In November, Diamondhead City Councilman Kodie Koenenn earned 56 percent of the Republican primary vote on Tuesday to earn the nomination for District 3 Supervisor. There were no Democratic candidates for the office, so Koenenn will face no opposition in the November general race.

Ryan will face incumbent District 1 Supervisor David Yarbrough, an Independent; and Democratic candidate Jefferson "Buster" Verdin.

Incumbent District 4 Supervisor Scotty Adam was unopposed in the Republican primary on Tuesday, but will face Democratic candidate Thaddeus Collier in November.

One of the most heated Republican primary races on Tuesday -- for the post of Hancock Circuit Clerk -- ended up in a run-off. Kendra "KK" Ladner Necaise earned 2,903 votes Tuesday, or a little more than 30 percent. She will face Tammy Garber -- who earned 1,953 votes, or about 20 percent -- in the Aug. 27 run-off. Kevin Ladner earned 1,462 votes; Ray Ladner, Jr., earned 1,456; and Johnny Rutherford, 1,774.

Incumbent Hancock County Coroner Jim Faulk will also head

Hancock County Circuit Clerk candidates Kendra "KK" Ladner Necaise, left, and Tammy Garber, share a congratulatory hug on Tuesday after learning they will face each other again in the Aug. 27 primary.

Unofficial totals show Moran winning by narrow margin

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

Incumbent Mississippi Dist. 46 Sen. Philip Moran prevailed over challenger Blaine LaFontaine in Tuesday's Republican primary, according to unofficial results, but it was a close race.

LaFontaine -- currently the president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors -- actually slightly edged Moran out in Hancock County, earning an unofficial 4,865 votes to Moran's 4,671. However, District 46 also includes part of Harrison County, where voters slightly favored Moran, giving him the win.

Unofficially, Moran earned a total of 5,946 votes to LaFontaine's 5,758, once Harrison County votes were tallied.

"First and foremost, I want to thank the people who came out to vote today," Moran said Tuesday evening. "The people have spoken and the race was a lot closer than we would have led, but we'll take the win."

"We're going to move forward. As far as I'm concerned, everybody's on the same team. We're going to continue to serve District 46 to the best of our ability. ... I'm proud of the face that we ran a very clean, positive campaign. I stated several times throughout the campaign that we never would go negative. I look forward to continuing to serve the good people of Hancock and Harrison counties in Jackson."

"We had real issues that we both talked about, at the end of

The city of Waveland's "Bark Park" is now open to the public, Waveland Mayor Mike Smith announced Tuesday.

"I'm real excited about it," he said. "I didn't realize the excitement that the citizens would feel."

Smith said the park was paid utilizing grant funds.

Barbara Coatney, assistant project director with Hancock County Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), wrote the grant for the city, Smith said.

Smith said the city was awarded $14,000, which paid for everything, except for the water fountains.

The water fountains are also expected to be delivered by the end of this week, he added.

Fire devastates Pass Christian's 'Monroe House'

The Monroe House, at 845 E. Scenic Drive, prior to the fire on Monday.

Firefighters from multiple agencies worked more than 10 hours on Monday to extinguish the blaze at "The Monroe House" in Pass Christian.

SEA COAST ECHO

Just days ago, it was considered the state of Mississippi's "priciest" property, but fire officials said Monday that after an early morning blaze, the so-called "Monroe House" is a total loss.

Lightning apparently struck a chimney on the nearly-22,000-square ft. home at 845 E. Scenic Dr. in Pass Christian at around 4 a.m. Monday, officials said. Fortunately, friends said, the only two family members who were home Monday morning were able to escape the blaze without injury.

Fire fighters from several agencies aided the Pass Christian Fire Department in battling the blaze for more than 10 hours on Monday, including personnel from the Diamondhead, Gulfport, Bay St. Louis, Long Beach and Harrison County fire departments; ANG/CTC Fire, AMR, and the Pass Christian Police Department and Public Works.

"We would like to thank all the departments who sent crews, both on duty and off, to help us out today," Pass Christian firefighters said on the department's Facebook page. "We truly could not have done it without y'all. We also want to thank the numerous citizens who brought food, water, and Gatorade to keep us nourished enough to continue. AMR had an awesome team on site that went above and beyond to make sure we stayed hydrated. Once again, thank you everyone."

The Monroe House was still listed on Zillow on Tuesday at $6.5 million. It initially hit the market a year and a half ago at $15 million.

Michele VonHoven-Harang, the listing agent with Watermark Realty who first listed the property, called it "Historical. Exquisite. Original. Remarkable. These are just a few words that describe the Southern hospitality and gracious living of this large estate. The breathtaking view overlooking the Gulf of Mexico cannot be explained until you are standing on the front balcony feeling the breeze calm your soul."

According to the Pass Christian Historical Society, the main house was built in 1964 by J. Edgar Monroe, a prominent New Orleans businessman, and his wife Louise S. Monroe. It was built to resemble the couple's "Rosecliff Mansion" in Newport, R.I.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramsey purchased the property from the Monroes in 1990 and nearly doubled the size of the house with an east and west wing. The property has been in the Ramsey family ever since.

In House District 95, Republican incumbent Patricia Willis will head to a runoff on Aug. 27. Willis faced three primary challengers, including current Diamondhead City Councilwoman Nancy Depreo, Robert Dambrino and Jay McKnight.

In Hancock County, Willis earned 1,370 votes - roughly 39 percent; Depreo earned 1,100; McKnight, 882; and Dambrino, 164, in unofficial totals.

Factoring in the Harrison County votes, however, Willis finished the race with 1,542 votes, slightly behind McKnight, with 1,924; and ahead of Depreo's 1,180 and Dambrino's 389. Willis and McKnight will face each other again in the Aug. 27 run-off.

Dist. 93 Rep. Timmy Ladner was unopposed.

Dist. 122 candidate Brent Anderson was unopposed in the Republican primary and will face Democratic candidate Wendy McDonald in November.

The only other clear winner on Tuesday was incumbent Constable Place 2 Ray Seal, Jr., who defeated Chad N. Dorn and Oliver W. Lee.

For the Constable Place 3 post, Paul Taylor and Albert Biehl will meet in the Aug. 27 run-off.

Justice Court Judge 2 J.A. "Jay" Lagasse, III, will head to the run-off against challenger Brian S. Necaise.

In the Justice Court Judge 3 race, Republicans Eric Moran and Roger Estopinal will meet again in the run-off, having out-paced Roland Flowers, Jr., Adam Landrum and Judith Redshaw.

An anxious crowd awaits final vote totals at the Hancock County Courthouse on Tuesday.

Fun at the Waveland dog park

It's times like these that make me wish my dog Rocco was still alive.

The city of Waveland recently opened its dog park and I wish Rocco was around to check it out with me.

I have my two cats, Miles and Jazzy, and they are certainly not the ideal visitors for a dog park. Plus, they are mostly introverts like their mama. Miles gets scared and hides when guests visit our home.

Jazzy also acts introverted at times, but she does love to entertain guests or sometimes alienate them with her Siamese charms.

I'm still not ready to think about getting another dog yet. It doesn't feel right.

But I'm glad to know that there is now a park for residents to take their furry family members.

It's located in a nice and quiet area and provides space for large and small dogs. There is also exercise equipment, a non-working fire hydrant, and benches installed under the shade.

It's important for dogs to get their exercise and it's also important for them to learn how to socialize with other animals.

I think the park will also give pet owners the chance to socialize with each other, providing an opportunity for people to get to know their fellow residents or to meet someone visiting from out of town.

When searching for a vacation spot or even a permanent home, many people often check out the amenities, including those that are available for their pets.

This will be an added benefit to a growing roster of Waveland's amenities. It's a good sign of growth for a city that, quite literally, was almost wiped off the map.

I hope that people and dogs will enjoy this new amenity for years to come.

MS Occupational licensing reform has bi-partisan support, but tough opposition

The requirements to obtain an occupational license before working is a growing problem throughout the country. And Mississippi is certainly not immune to this current situation.

There once was a time when occupational licensing was reserved for those occupations that most would agree should be licensed. This includes medical professionals, lawyers, or teachers. But those days are long passed.

Today, approximately 19 percent of Mississippians need a license to work. On average, licensing for low and middle-income occupations in Mississippi requires an individual to complete 155 days of training, to pass two exams, and to pay nearly $200 in fees. Those numbers will vary depending on the industry. For example, a shampooer must receive 1,500 clock hours of education. A fire alarm installer must pay over $1,000 in fees.

The net result is a decrease in the number of people who can work. A study from the National Bureau of Economic Research found that occupational licensing reduces labor supply by 17 to 27

GUEST COLUMN
by Brett Kittredge

percent. In Mississippi, the Institute for Justice estimates that licensing has cost the state 13,000 jobs. All very real numbers.

What can we do?

Mississippi has made progress. In 2017, the state adopted an occupational licensing review board to provide direct supervision over occupational licensing laws moving forward. The state has also made it easier for ex-offenders to receive licenses so they can obtain employment and restricted licensing boards from pulling the license of someone who defaults on their student loans.

All good steps, but they don't address the underlying problems with occupational licensing. Earlier this year, Arizona Gov. Doug Ducey signed a law that provides reciprocity for all licenses, even though those states don't do the same for Arizona licenses. A couple other states have since followed suit. And this proposal has won the praise of a Democrat running for president, Andrew Yang. He called the current limits on reciprocity bad for those seeking new opportunities. A Democratic candidate for president praising a Republican governor. It can happen.

Because this is common sense. Imagine if we needed a different driver's license every time we crossed state lines. An individual doesn't forget their craft because they move. Mississippi does have limited reciprocity for military families, but generally speaking the state hasn't been open to the idea.

A bill that was introduced last session would've given out-of-state medical practitioners the right to practice in the state for charitable reasons. It didn't make it out of committee. We can only speculate as to who is opposed to allowing out-of-state medical professionals to provide charity care in the poorest state in the nation.

At a time when few states offer reciprocity, it could be a great selling feature for Mississippi.

But despite bi-partisan support for reform, we also have entrenched opposition. Which is what licensing creates. The state of Utah recently bragged about nabbing unlicensed contractors. New Jersey was able to rid the streets of 29 unlicensed movers.

It is true that licensing leads to hire wages for those with a license, but it does so by driving up costs for the consumer. A Heritage Foundation report found that Mississippians pay an $800 hidden tax each year because of licensing. And we do this even though there isn't a clear increase in the quality of service. Rather, it just distorts the free market. Which is why licensing boards are so determined to protect their monopoly.

Instead, we should trust consumers to make decisions for themselves, not the government or an industry lobbyist. We can do this through market competition, third-party ratings systems, such as an app like Yelp or even Facebook, or through private certifications that allow both the entrepreneur and the customer to

Conservation Finance Center

All landowners must face the decision of what to do with their land. Most people are interested in creating revenue from their land through agriculture, forestry, or perhaps leasing for hunting, fishing, or other recreational uses. Others are content with just owning their property for personal enjoyment, or keeping it as a legacy to hand down to future generations. Still, a decision for the land use must be made, and it would greatly benefit the landowner to have all their options and information available in one place so that they can make an informed decision on what is best for them, their family, and future generations. This idea lead Wildlife Mississippi towards developing the Conservation Finance Center (www.conservationfinancecenter.org) to assist landowners with difficult land-use decisions and convey to them information on current conservation programs.

Wildlife Mississippi, the Mississippi Land Trust, and the Mississippi River Trust have partnered with Yale University and the Walton Family Foundation to develop a website to assist private landowners in making conservation decisions based on sound economics. The website contains background information for many of the programs that Wildlife Mississippi uses to assist private landowners with conservation projects. Currently these conservation tools include the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP), the Wetland Reserve Easement (WRE).

One of the most useful elements of the website is a Decision Support Tool (DST) where landowners can provide information on their property that will help them make a comparative financial analysis of various land uses. This can assist landowners in visualizing the economic results of undergoing certain land-use practices, while providing all of the background information, costs, and revenues all in one location.

Currently, the DST is designed for bottomland hardwood restoration using the CRP and the WRE in the states of Arkansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri and Tennessee.

The website provides plenty of useful information, summaries and links for different aspects of land conservation and the numerous programs that are available to provide incentives for private landowners interested in restoring, enhancing, or preserving fish and wildlife habitat and other natural resources.

Wildlife Mississippi is especially appreciative to the Walton Family Foundation for providing funding to help develop the Conservation Finance Center and to Yale University for their expertise and valuable assistance.

Waveland investigators this week arrested two juveniles who allegedly stole several guns, credit cards and other loot from unlocked vehicles.

"We were very fortunate

we were able to recover those firearms," Waveland Police Chief Mike Prendergast said Tuesday. "Investigator Eddie Hursey and Investigator Chad Dorn put a lot of hours into this. We made the arrests yesterday. The suspects were both 16-year-old boys. More arrests are possible. ... One of the guns recovered was from out in the county, so apparently these guys were hitting cars out in the county, too."

Prendergast said many burglars seek unlocked vehicles or houses because they are easy targets.

"Always lock your cars, doors and windows," Prendergast said. "People need to be more careful."

Patano Engineering + Architecture Design Group, told the board last month.

As per the construction schedule, the field house should be completed by the beginning of next football season, a construction length of 10 months, Patano said.

Patano said that the new field house will be about 10,000 square feet and will feature some of the following items: A locker room; weight room; a separate co-ed training room; coaches office with showers; showers for the players; and two meeting spaces/classrooms.

The groundbreaking is scheduled for 10 a.m.

Saturday.

Prior to the groundbreaking, the district will host media day for the football players from 8 to a.m. Events include an intersquad scrimmage, newspaper interviews, and player photos.

Waveland City Clerk Mickey Lagasse said the dog park is located adjacent to the softball field on Central Avenue.

The park features waste stations, exercise equipment for dogs, and two separate parks for small and large dogs, he said.

There are also shaded areas with benches and a non-working fire hydrant, Lagasse said.

Rules for the dog park are posted and include:

- Use park at your own risk.
- Owners are legally responsible for the behavior of their dog(s) at all times.
- Dogs must be leashed while entering and exiting the park.
- Dog waste must be cleaned up by their owners immediately.
- Owners must be with in the dog park and supervising their dog with leash readily available.

- Dog handlers must be at least 16 years of age.
- Children under 13 must be accompanied by an adult and supervised at all times.

- Aggressive dogs must be removed immediately.
- Dogs should be under voice control.

Things that are prohibited include:

- Human and dog food/treats.
- Glass containers.
- Dogs in heat.
- Sick dogs.
- Aggressive dogs.
- Puppies (under four months).

The dog park's listed hours are 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. and the park is closed the first Wednesday of each month for maintenance.

During this week's trial period, Smith said, the response to the new park has been a positive.

"The only issue we've had is people not cleaning up after their dogs," he said.

The city plans to schedule a ribbon cutting at the park in the near future.

For many patients with macular degeneration, diabetic retinopathy and other conditions that cause low vision, the loss of vision can signal the end of independence and the joy of life. Dr. Rod Fields prescribes miniature telescope glasses to help people to see better.

"Many of my patients consider me their last chance for vision improvement" said Dr. Fields, one of few doctors specially trained by the International Academy of Low Vision Specialists.

Imagine special glasses that can improve your vision enough to change your life.

Custom designed telescopic glasses are an advanced optical technology that can give you back your independence.

Special glasses designed by Dr. Fields can also help those with side vision loss from stroke.

"My job is to figure out everything and anything possible to allow a person to see better" says Dr. Fields.

JUNE DUPUIS CHAISSON

On Sunday, August 4, 2019, Marie June Ellen Dupuis (Duhon) Chaisson passed away at her home in Diamondhead, Mississippi at 11:45 pm surrounded by her beloved husband, Tony and family and loving companion, Bandit.

June was born in Nina, Louisiana to Alcee Pierre Dupuis and Modeste Derousselle Dupuis on February 10, 1933. She graduated in 1951 from Cecilia High School. In July 1951, she married Stanley T. Duhon and moved to Lafayette, Louisiana. Over the next 10 years, six children were born to them. June was a "Jack of All Trades". She owned her own gift shop and bought and operated the second "Philips 66" service station in the family. She worked in real estate and was a dispatcher for the Lafayette City Police Department. Eventually, she went to work for Acadian Ambulance as a dispatcher, but transitioned into training and working as an EMT and EMTI. There, she met the love of her life, Critical Care Paramedic Anthony "Tony" D. Chaisson, and they married in May of 1983. They moved to Berwick, Louisiana, near Tony's home town, but eventually relocated to Diamondhead, MS.

June was a consummate volunteer and civic servant. She worked as a Pink Lady for Lafayette General Hospital. She could be seen climbing ladders while helping to paint St. Patrick's Catholic Church. She was a regular in the scorer's tent at the LAGCO Oilman's Golf Tournament at Lafayette's Municipal Golf Course or scoring for a Pro-Am Golf Tournament at Oakbourne Country Club, where she and Stanley were founding members. As avid golfers, she and Stanley paired up and won the Oakbourne Country Club's "Mr. and Mrs." Tournament in the 1960's. June also scored several hole-in-ones. She could also be seen volunteering as a crossing guard for children who walked or rode their bikes to Myrtle Place Elementary School near their home. She acted as the treasurer for Boy Scout Troop 19, where three of her sons attained their Eagle Scout. When Hurricane Katrina hit their home in Diamondhead, MS. in 2005, she and Tony could be seen going through their neighborhood (tragically devastated) checking on neighbors and cooking hot meals for all who remained behind to clean up after the storm. All while they began repairs on their own home.

She was not one to sit idle. She had many hobbies. Besides golf, she enjoyed reading, sewing, crocheting, knitting, painting, making puzzles and spending time seeking out garage sales with Tony. She and Tony spent all of their time together and much of it was playing golf or going on golf vacations to their beloved Myrtle Beach.

June was preceded in death by her parents, "Pep" and "Maude" Dupuis; her first husband, Stanley T. Duhon; her sister-in-law, Barbara T. Dupuis; her niece, Becky L. Dupuis; and her parents-in-law, Anthony D. and Claire D. Chaisson.

She is survived by her husband, Tony D.

Chaisson; one brother, Alcee P. Dupuis, Jr. (A. P.) (Lafayette); her children and their spouses, Tana D. Trahan (Dr. Dale M. Trahan), David T. Duhon, Lowell G. Duhon (Jill Longman Duhon), Dean P. Duhon, Tracy T. Duhon and Jay A. Duhon (Marlisa Tortorici Duhon) all of Lafayette; 15 grandchildren: Lindsey Trahan Vince (Ryan), Matthew C. Duhon (Heather), Dr. Erin Trahan Pratt (Dr. Ricky), Jared A. Duhon (Dr. Joy), Tyler M. Trahan (Amy), Dr. Angelle Trahan Saloom (Thomas), Jude E. Duhon, Timothy M. Trahan, Taylor Anne Faulk, AMAA Dustin J. "D.J." Faulk, USN, Madeleine G. Duhon, Manny G. Duhon, Michael R. Faulk, Rebecca Elise Duhon and Anthony V. Duhon; brother-in-law, Wayne J. Chaisson; and sisters-in-laws, Darlene C. Chaisson and Amanda C. Angeron; 18 great grandchildren; and a host of nieces and nephews.

The family would like to thank the doctors and staff on the fourth floor at Memorial Hospital in Gulfport, MS, the doctors and staff at Dunbar Village Nursing Facility, Mississippi Home Health with special thanks to Ashley and the doctors and nurses of St Joseph's Hospice with special thanks to our angel, Katherine, Deacon Roberto Jimenez and Mary Lou and David Czplaski for caring for her spiritual needs, Charlie and Martha Stewart and all her neighbors and friends for the wonderful care and attention given her during her illness.

There will be no services at this time. Bradford O'Keefe Funeral Home, Howard Avenue in Biloxi, was honored to help serve this family. View and sign register book at www.bradfordokeefe.com

Hancock Port & Harbor awarded multiple grants

SEA COAST ECHO

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is slated to receive five grants, totaling over $2 Million to fund multiple projects across Port Bienville Industrial Park and Stennis International Airport.

Port Bienville is set to receive two grants for ongoing projects, improving operations for both the maritime port and short line railroad. One grant, in the amount of $382,500 has been awarded through the Mississippi Department of Transportation's (MDOT) FY20 Ports Multi-modal Project, which is funded through MDOT's Multi-Modal Transportation Improvement Fund (MMTIF).

The funds received through this grant program will be used to support the restoration and rehabilitation of the public dock facility.

A second grant, in the amount of $350,000, has been awarded to Port Bienville Railroad (PBRR) through MDOT's FY20 Railroads Multi-modal Project, also funded through MMTIF. PBRR will utilize the funds received through this grant program for the planned Lower Bay Railyard Switches Upgrade Project.

"We are very grateful for the State's support through MDOT's Multi-modal grant program" said Bill Cotter, Chief Operating Officer for HCPHC. "This funding enables Port Bienville Industrial Park to make necessary improvements and to continue providing top-notch service to our local industries".

Stennis International Airport is slated to receive three grants for ongoing projects to improve operations at the airport. One grant, in the amount of $345,800, has been awarded through MDOT's Airport Multimodal Transportation Improvement Program to support construction of a multi-user aero landing strip. A second grant, in the amount of $699,061, has been awarded through the Federal Aviation Administration's (FAA) Airport Improvement Program (AIP). The AIP grant is earmarked to rehabilitate the Stennis International Airport taxiway system. A third grant, in the amount of $250,000, has been awarded to Stennis Airport by the Mississippi Development Authority to assist with site development, including parcel sitting and wetlands mitigation, for the newly acquired 846-acre site.

Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission CEO, Bill Cork, said "Hancock County is experiencing significant industrial growth and we forecast this trend to continue. The State of Mississippi is a great partner; and these investments will help ensure our future success."

MDEQ issues additional Water Contact Warnings

SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ), through its Beach Monitoring Program, is issuing additional water contact warnings for four locations on the Mississippi Gulf Coast in addition to the warnings currently in place for the existing 21 beach sampling stations. These warnings have been issued due to a blue-green Harmful Algal Bloom (HAB) present in the nearshore waters off the Mississippi Gulf Coast. These locations are not part of the beach program's regular sampling sites; however, the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (MDMR) sampled and analyzed additional locations this week and provided those results to MDEQ.

The locations are:
From Davis Avenue to

Donlin Avenue in Pass Christian

From Arbor Station Drive to Lang Avenue in Long Beach

From Mason Avenue to South Burke Avenue in Long Beach

From Lewis Avenue to Hardy Avenue in Gulfport

"A Harmful Algal Bloom remains along our coastline, and we encourage people to continue to be aware of their surroundings and pay attention to these warnings. If anyone sees a bloom, please notify our agency and/or local emergency management officials. As a reminder, these warnings refer to water contact only and do not prohibit or restrict recreational use of the sand portion of any beach," said Gary Rikard, MDEQ Executive Director.

MDEQ recommends people, and their pets, avoid water contact such as swimming or wading where the blue-green HAB is present because exposure can be harmful. An algal bloom is the rapid growth of algae on the surface of the water. The algae can cause rashes, stomach cramps, nausea, diarrhea and vomiting. MDEQ advises that those exposed wash with soap and water. MDEQ and MDMR are working together on the ongoing investigation of identifying the presence of HABs.

"MDMR is continuing to test water and fish samples to ensure seafood safety in Mississippi waters. MDMR is advising fishermen to avoid catching seafood in waters where algae is present. Recreational and commercial fishing off-shore in Mississippi waters remains unaffected by the algal bloom and is safe for consumption.

'Queens of the Court' return to their throne

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The area's high school volleyball season is set to open this weekend with two teams playing in the Southern Classic in Jackson and the third area team will open their 2019 season on the road on Tuesday, August 13th.

But, either way you look at it or whichever team you cheer for, the athletic year is upon us all. So, make way for the 'Queens of the Court' to take their place at center court.

The Bay High Lady Tigers, Hancock Lady Hawks, and Our Lady Academy Crescents all have a championship pedigree. They all lost players to graduation. And, all three have top notch players returning in 2019.

BAY HIGH

The Bay High Lady Tigers narrowly missed the playoffs last season going 4-15 overall in Class II. This year the Lady Tigers return several players who saw action last season.

Bay High head coach Kellie Gunn commented, "We are really excited about this season. Over the summer, we attended the USM team camp and won the camp tournament. It gave us an indication of where we stand and what needs improvement. There were some very solid teams at the camp."

Despite all the growth and success during the summer, the Lady Tigers will begin 2019 with motivation from a tragic event. Recently, the community lost the light of Ayanna Singleton who graduated in May after starring in soccer and volleyball for the Lady Tigers. Singleton lost her valiant battle with cancer.

Gunn continued, "We want to fight and play as hard as Yaya did with her challenges. We want to play for her."

Singleton did not get to play her senior season as she was undergoing treatment but she was a constant source of inspiration for the Bay High community and she continues to be.

Gunn stated that she has just one senior on the squad in Blakeleigh Lumpkin returning this year along with other letter winners Domonique Coles, Lizzie Weems and Jadyn Sheppard.

Gunn added that Lumpkin and Coles will set the ball together. Weems returns as a middle hitter and brings athleticism to the midcourt. Sheppard returns to the back line as libero to lead the defense.

Nene Bosarge will look to hold down one of the outside hitter positions as she steps up to the varsity team this fall.

Gunn stated, "As in years past, we do not have a lot of height but we are scrappy. Our defense will be our strength. We have high hopes for the season and the playoffs are definitely in our sights. We are eager to get things started."

The Lady Tigers will remain in Class II and will compete in a division with Vancleave, Pass Christian and Moss Point.

Bay High won the 2004

Class I state title and last made the playoffs in 2016.

HANCOCK

The Hancock Lady Hawks are breaking in some new faces on the court after the graduation of several key letter winners last season. The Lady Hawks are also featuring a new face on the sideline in Lysie Byrd Gayden as head coach.

Gayden replaces Rick Rechien on the bench after four seasons as head coach.

Gayden commented, "We had a relatively busy summer. In June we practiced twice per week. In July we had practices that focused on individual positions and fundamentals. Last week we had a team camp with Gold Medal Squares that came to us. It was all day Monday through Thursday. The girls have worked extremely hard throughout the summer to prepare for this season."

Hancock has five seniors on the roster including Jenna Stallings, Haley Kelly, Emma Dau, Maesyn Cuevas, and Izzy Scardino that were members of last year's squad that went 22-10 and advanced to the Class III state semi-finals where they lost to DeSoto Central.

Gayden added, "The seniors have been great leaders this summer and the team looks to them for guidance. I feel we have a tough non-division schedule that will help us get ready for the division competition. The skills of our players match their attitude which is gritty. The team has been very accepting of my coming in to coach them. We are looking forward to getting this season underway."

Hancock will compete in Class IV and in a division made up of Gulfport, Harrison Central and West Harrison.

The Lady Hawks have won their division five consecutive years and have claimed two Class III state titles (2010, 2016).

OUR LADY ACADEMY

The Our Lady Academy Crescents have become the standard bearer of volleyball for the state of Mississippi and this year much of the same is expected.

OLA head coach Mike Meyers commented, "We are extremely excited to kickoff the new season. We lost two very integral seniors to graduation in Lizzy Mirandy and Margaret Spencer White. We return a solid group of players including 6'2" Rebecca Walk who is a USA commit. Joining Walk are seniors Alma Hearin and Kate Montjoy, juniors Camille Cottone, Khloe Cornell, Faith Anderson, Kate Funk and freshman Ashley Bulot."

Last year the Crescents captured their seventh consecutive Class I state championship and 13th overall state volleyball title.

Meyers added, "We have a very difficult non-district schedule playing mostly 5A and 6A schools. We will have to improve offensively and be much more solid on defense to be able to play with this competition. Our summer and preseason practices have gone very well. Our girls are working hard and getting better each day. We are ready to open the season and play a different team."

The Crescents will again play in Class I with a division made up of Lumberton, North Forrest, Perry Central, Resurrection, Richton, Sacred Heart and St. Patrick.

The Crescents have won 20 consecutive division titles and 13 state championships (2002-03, 2006-09, 2012-18). The Crescents are the last team to win an overall state title in 2002 when they defeated Southaven and before the MHSAA created classifications. OLA has played in 16 state finals (2001-03, 2006-present).

This year the MHSAA created another class for volleyball making four different classes - Class I (1A/2A/3A), Class II (4A), Class III (5A), and Class IV (6A). Volleyball is the fastest growing female sport in America.

Crescents host preseason volleyball jamboree

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The Our Lady Academy Crescents hosted a preseason volleyball jamboree at the Father Peter Mockler Gymnasium on Saturday. The jamboree featured the seven-time Class I defending host team along with two-time defending Class II state champion Vancleave, Class III Final Four participant Hancock, perennial Class III contender Oak Grove, Ocean Springs, and Biloxi.

Each team played each other in one set of action. The first four sets went to 25 while the fifth set went to 15.

OLA head coach Mike Meyers commented on the jamboree, "I thought we had a good day with six very, very competitive teams. The level of play was excellent. I think each team accomplished exactly what they were hoping for which is an indicator of where they are heading into the season. We are excited to get going next weekend in the Southern Classic in Jackson."

Hancock's first-year head coach Lysie Byrd Gayden stated, "I am super excited for this season to get started. This is only the beginning and we are where we need to be. We will only get better from here. Everybody got to play today and we played some very solid competition today. We won three and dropped two sets. We have the whole season ahead of us and we are looking forward to getting started next weekend in the Southern Classic."

In the jamboree, Hancock defeated Ocean Springs 26-24, Oak Grove 25-10, and Biloxi 15-11. They fell to OLA 21-25 and Vancleave 25-27. OLA defeated Hancock 25-21, Ocean Springs 25-18, Biloxi 25-20, and Oak Grove 15-6. The Crescents fell to Vancleave 14-25.

Ocean Springs beat Biloxi 25-16 and fell to Hancock 24-26, Oak Grove 16-25, OLA 18-25 and Vancleave 12-15.

Oak Grove beat Biloxi 25-22 and Ocean Springs 25-16. They fell to Hancock 10-25, Vancleave 20-25, and OLA 6-15.

Biloxi did not win a game. Vancleave won all five games.

The Lady Tigers of Bay High were scheduled to participate in the Gulfport

Jamboree on Saturday but withdrew from the jamboree to honor the life of former Bay High volleyball and soccer great Ayanna Singleton who lost her battle with cancer last week.

Hancock and OLA open their season this weekend in Jackson in the Southern Classic. Bay High will start their season on the road on Tuesday, August 13th against Gulfport.

SECOND SATURDAY

OLD TOWN CELEBRATES AUGUST ARTWALK

BY CAROLINE ST. PAUL and JENNIFER HANSEN

The Old Town Merchants Association (OTMA) and its members invite you to experience the Second Saturday Art Walk this Saturday, August 10. Also known as Second Saturday, the event has become a regional favorite and regularly draws visitors from New Orleans to Biloxi.

Each month during Second Saturday, two OTMA members are featured as Hot Spots, and Clay Creations and Lulu's on Main are this month's picks. Between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m., visitors can stop by the Hot Spots and other shops for refreshments and live music. Bring the kids! Pass a good time.

HOT SPOTS

CLAY CREATIONS
Clay Creations, located in the back of Gallery 220, sells handmade clay sculptures which replicate buildings that appear primarily along the Gulf Coast and New Orleans. The business recently celebrated its 35th anniversary in June of this year. Jenise McCardell began Clay Creations Studio in 1980. In 1993, she moved herself and the business to Bay St. Louis from New Orleans, and opened her own ceramics studio there. Today, she and her husband, Mark Currier, continue to create these beloved creations out of clay. "The pieces are sculpted from white clay, hand painted, and fired twice in process happens on site. Over 1,000 designs are also on display here.

Weeks after Hurricane Katrina, McCardell and her husband decided to repair their building as quickly as possible so that they could host Second Saturday. This heroic act was just what the community needed to heal. The couple decided to open “their doors every Saturday evening for the next several months”, which allowed everyone to come together, and also gave the local artists a space to show and sell their artwork.

This same spirit is present in the business. For August 10 Second Saturday Artwalk, stop into the gallery to view these beautiful handmade clay creations. Enjoy entertainment sponsored by Hancock/Whitney Bank, The First, and The People’s Bank. Enjoy Clay Creations as a “Hot Spot” for the entire month of August.

LULU’S ON MAIN

Enjoy a leisurely afternoon of lunching and shopping at Lulu’s on Main. Nancy Moynan has owned Lulu’s since 2002. After Hurricane Katrina, Moynan bought Lulu’s current building from her brother in 2007, and the restaurant re-opened on June 22 of that year.

Moynan came to Bay St. Louis to retire and “to slow life down a little bit.” A New Orleans native, Moynan cites Bay St. Louis as an extension of the city. Her restaurant, and the food that she serves, is reminiscent of “The Big Easy,” and of her mother and grandmother as well.

At Lulu’s, “there really aren’t any bad sellers” Moynan says. On the menu, you will find crab cakes, chicken salad, roast beef po-boys, fish tacos, pear pecan salad, Greek salad, hamburgers, and much more. Everything is cooked to order by Moynan, who got her restaurant training at Commander’s Palace.

As a young adult, after she first moved out of her family’s home, she would call her mother and ask for instructions on how to make certain dishes. “That’s kind of how I got the bug,” she remembers. “This has just been a passion.”

“I formulate a menu to what I think is gonna be what people want” she says. Moynan is happy with the current menu, calling it “spot on.” She runs a lot of specials as well, that customers always enjoy.

“The community here is delightful” she says, adding that there is “such a familiarity.” Moynan’s philosophy is grounded on “keeping it manageable, small, fresh, and giving people a memory; an experience.” The building that Lulu’s is in also houses a few retail shops, making it the perfect place to enjoy blissful lunch with friends or family, followed by shopping-all under one roof.

GALLERY 220 FEATURES ARTIST HOLLY BOYNES

Please join the artists of Gallery 220 and enjoy the latest creations from this month’s featured artist, Holly Boynes, of Slip Into Clay. You can find her on Facebook and other social media outlets by searching for her under Slip Into Clay.

Gallery 220 will be open late from 5-8 p.m. for Second Saturday. Stop in and enjoy some delicious food provided by our local artists. This month’s main dish, cooked by Holly herself, is Jambalaya. The gallery is located on the corner of Main & Toulme.

Holly, 29, is a Louisiana native and graduated with a Bachelor of Fine Art’s Degree from Nicholls State University. She spends much of her free time creating new ideas and one of a kind pieces of art.

Holly loves the ability to transform the clay medium by using her absolute freedom to bring her ideas to life. Holly crafts ornaments, dinner platters, food safe bowls, beautiful floral arrangements and more. This month she’s brought in so many incredible nature themed pieces that are unique and pleasing to the eye. She has constructed beautiful and whimsical pieces that incorporate many fine details that are one of a kind. Holly likes to get creative with her use of specialty glazes to add even more stunning results when they come out of the kiln.

Holly will be happy to meet you and to answer any questions you may have. Don’t forget to check out her window display if you are in the area before Saturday.

BACK TO SCHOOL BLOCK PARTY ON TAP

A Back to School Block Party will be held this weekend as part of the Second Saturday festivities.

From 3-6 p.m. Saturday, Second Street will be blocked off between Court and Main streets to accommodate the event.

“The purpose of the event is to educate, showcase and inform parents and students about all of the resources in the community available to them when they are in need,” said event organizer Greg Barabino. “It also gives the nonprofits that are partici-

AUGUST 21

- Infants are dying at a higher rate in Mississippi than anywhere else in the US. All of us want the best for our community, but many social challenges that face South Mississippi affect us all in one way or another — whether it is child abuse or neglect, domestic violence, life-controlling addictions, the high rate of high-school drop outs, increasing poverty, etc.- when one is affected, we are all affected. The Fetal and Infant Mortality Review (FIMR) program is an action-oriented community process that continually assesses, monitors, and works to improve service systems and community resources for women, infants and families. We invite the Community Groups on the Gulf Coast as well as interested medical personnel to participate in improving the issues impacting poor birth outcomes. These include psycho-social issues such as prenatal care adequacy, maternal use of illegal substances, domestic violence, tobacco use, poverty, infant safety, transportation, birth spacing, family planning, education, employment, obesity, breast feeding, unsafe sleep practices, child abuse & neglect, sexually transmitted diseases, mental health support and the general health of women & their families. The event is scheduled for Wednesday, August 21, 2019 from 9 to 10:30 a.m. at the Dr. Eldon Langston Bolton State Office Building, located at 1141 Bayview Avenue,

Biloxi.

AUGUST 30

Golfing News from July 2019

BY SHIRLEY HALTERMAN

Well, it is definitely summer in the South. Each day brings 90 + degrees — not to mention 70 - 80% humidity, afternoon thunderstorms and tropical storm warnings. Regardless, golfing goes on. As noted in my last article, during the months of July and August, because one of our courses will be undergoing some renovations, we will be having specific tee times instead of playing a "shot-gun" start each Tuesday morning.

We played our usual Trophy Day on Tuesday,

July 2nd, and our winners were as follows: (Low Net) 1st Flight — Judy Tauzin, 2nd Flight — Shirley Halterman and 3rd Flight — Kitty Gregoire. (Low Putts) 1st Flight — Ann Nutting, 2nd Flight — Nancy Sislow and 3rd Flight — Marsha Biestek. (Closest-to-the Pin) 1st Flight — Marilyn Galus, 2nd Flight — Sue Richards and 3rd Flight — Beryl Laird. (Longest Drive) 1st Flight — Linda DeParto, 2nd Flight — Nancy Sislow, (no one had a recordable long drive in Flight 3) and Black Tee Flight — Beryl Laird. Kitty Gregoire had a Chip-In on Hole #5 and Nancy Sislow had one on Hole #7.

On Tuesday, July 9th, and Tuesday, July 16th, we played our Electic Tournament. For those of you unfamiliar with this format, we play the same course two Tuesdays in a row.

After the second Tuesday of play, we are allowed to record the best number scored on each of the holes and our total score is thus determined. Hopefully, if you did not do well on a specific hole, you will improve the following week. This way you improve your final score. And, our Electric winners were: Flight One — Marilyn Galus and Theresa Mauterer tied for 1st Place, and Susie Fontenot, Margaret Sherwood and Judy Tauzin all tied for 2nd Place. Flight Two — Shirley Halterman took 1st Place, Pat VanDervort got 2nd Place and Sue Hebert garnered 3rd Place. Flight Three — Pattie Blackwood got 1st Place, Beryl Laird took 2nd Place, and Mary Mizell grabbed 3rd Place.

T's & S's was the game for Tuesday, July 23rd. Since we played the front nine of the Pine course in this game you only get credit for scores occurring on holes that begin with a T (two or three) and S (six and seven).

Our First Flight winners were: 1st Place — Kathie Pierson and Linda DeParto and Therese Mauterer tied for 2nd Place. The Second Flight winners were: 1st Place — Mary Mizell, 2nd Place — Fran Smith and 3rd Place Nancy Sislow.

The final Tuesday of July (the 30th) we played a traditional Scramble; and we again saw a tie for 1st Place between the team of: Marilyn Galus, Shirley Halterman, Kathy Jones and Marsha Biestek and the team of: Theresa Mauterer, Kathie Pierson, Nancy Sislow and Mary Mizell. Taking 3rd Place was the team of Susie Fonenot, Marlene Gossard, Kitty Gregoire and Beryl Laird. In addition, both Renie Dack and Kathy Jones scored Chip-Ins on Hole #16.

We look forward to bringing you up to date on our golfing adventures in August — providing the Mississippi weather cooperates.

Till then, get out there whenever possible and put that little white ball in the all too small hole.

Mississippi Public Health Institute Joins Several Gulf Coast Organizations to Provide Fresh Produce to 500 Families at Produce Drop

Organizations Joining Forces to Support the Development of Healthy Families in Jackson, Hancock, and Harrison Counties

SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi Public Health Institute (MSPHI), Feeding the Gulf Coast, Society of St. Andrew, Rouse's Supermarket, and other local partners distributed fresh fruits and vegetables to approximately 500 families at a produce drop event held at First Baptist Church of Biloxi. The produce drop is part of collaborative efforts among MSPHI, Feeding the Gulf Coast, and several organizations across the Mississippi Gulf Coast to support the development of healthier families.

"Through conversations with food pantries and partners, we learned the capacity to provide fresh produce to communities was limited," said Tennille Collins, program manager for the MSPHI Gulf Coast Families, Mothers, and Babies Initiative. "Access to healthy food is a key to improving overall health, and we believe events like this produce drop will increase access in communities across these three counties."

One in five Mississippians struggles with hunger, and Mississippi has had the highest rate of food insecurity in the country for eight consecutive years, according to data from Feeding America, the nation's largest domestic hunger-relief organization. The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) defines food insecurity as a lack of consistent access to enough food for an active, healthy life and limited or uncertain availability of nutritionally adequate food. The food insecurity rate in each of Mississippi's Gulf Coast counties is higher than the national average. Feeding the Gulf Coast has been working with farmers and other partners to directly address this issue.

"We've been working with farmers to source a lot of local produce. In the past, food assistance agencies have been limited to only supplying shelf-stable food," said Stefanie Bencsath, grants manager at Feeding the Gulf Coast. "Activities like the produce drop make it easier for families to sustain and support dietary quality."

In addition to this produce drop, MSPHI, Coastal Family Health Center, and the Gulf Coast Healthy Communities Collaborative will support community-based activities that connect African American mothers and families in Jackson, Hancock, and Harrison to resources that support and promote healthy lifestyles.

MSPHI and its partners expect this project to improve overall health along the Gulf Coast by helping to prevent chronic disease, strengthening community support for breastfeeding, and reducing tobacco use. For more information on the REACH project, contact Tennille Collins at tcollins@msphi.org or (601) 398-4406. For more information on MSPHI, visit www.msphi.org

Guardianship clinic in Gulfport helps 39 children

SEA COAST ECHO

Grandparents, other relatives and caring friends were able to establish guardianships for 39 children at a free guardianship clinic in Gulfport this week.

There were so many people seeking help at the Harrison County Courthouse on Monday, July 29, that the Eighth Chancery Court had to ask some people to come back on Friday, Aug. 2, to finish the process, said Chancellor Margaret Alfonso. People from Harrison, Hancock and Stone counties received assistance.

Most of the children had been living with their relatives for long periods of time. "We are just legalizing situations that have been in place for years. It doesn't become a critical issue until it is time for them to go to school," Judge Alfonso said.

Schools require relatives seeking to enroll children to have legal guardianship of those children. Also, relatives must have legal guardianship to seek medical care, public assistance and other services for children.

People who sought assistance included grandparents, aunts, uncles, step-parents and family friends. Many of the children's biological parents were imprisoned, or just not present to take care of children. Children ranged in age from 1 to 16.

"It's a myriad of relationships, but all of them need the legal paperwork," Judge Alfonso said. The common factor among all was they are poor and cannot afford to hire a lawyer to navigate the court system. "We are really filling that need for people who cannot afford lawyers," Judge Alfonso said.

Kim Hart of Families First for Mississippi screened applicants for income eligibility.

Attorney Rodger Wilder of Gulfport, co-chair of the Access to Justice Commission, gave his time as a volunteer on Monday and Friday, giving legal advice to the clinic participants and preparing documents for them.

Wilder was saddened by the difficult circumstances they presented. One grandmother had partial paralysis. "She was coming in to get (guardianships for) her grandchildren so that she could take care of them. This woman is barely taking care of herself, but her heart says 'I have to take care of these kids,' " Wilder said.

Another free guardianship clinic is planned for Dec. 5 at the Harrison County Courthouse in Gulfport, with a follow up date scheduled for Dec. 13. The free clinic is limited to guardianships.

The Access to Justice Commission and the Mississippi Volunteer Lawyers Project are working to conduct free civil legal assistance clinics for residents of all 82 counties, as they did in 2018. Many of the clinics handle family law matters beyond guardianships, such as uncontested irreconcilable differences divorce, custody, visitation, name changes and birth certificate corrections. A list of free legal clinics across the state is at this link: <https://courts.ms.gov/Legal/CivilLegal.php>.

For more information about the subject matter of a particular clinic, and to determine eligibility for free legal assistance, call or e-mail the Mississippi Access to Justice Commission at 601-960-9581 or nmclaughlin@msbar.org, or the Mississippi Volunteer Lawyers Project at 601-882-5001 or mvlp@mvlp.org.

ServSafe at Hancock County Extension Service

SEA COAST ECHO

The Hancock County Extension Service will be hosting a ServSafe Certification Course on August 14, 2019 starting at 8:00 AM. This training will be a full, one-day event, concluding upon completion of the certification exam. The 7th Edition is the required text for the course, and due to the many changes that have been made in past editions, students are encouraged to purchase the 7th Edition prior to the exam. Waiting until the day of testing to study for the exam is highly discouraged, as this is a comprehensive examination.

Hancock County Library System Welcomes Author Deborah Burst

SEA COAST ECHO

Join us for August's Authors and Characters program with Author Deborah Burst. The program takes place on Tuesday August 13, at the Bay St. Louis Library from 11:45 am - 1:30 pm. Deborah will be discussing her book, The Magical World of Trees.

The Magical World of Trees: We all have one, that favorite tree where we confide our life-long dreams. But do they hear our words? And do they have feelings? Delve deep inside The Magical World of Trees and discover how they breathe, think and communicate. Beneath the earth, there's brain activity among the roots as they search for nutrients and share their bounty with young and old. And it is there science has found trees experience pain and have memories.

Reserve your spot today by calling the Bay St. Louis Hancock County Library at (228)467-5282. Lunch is available for $10.

The World Goes Round opens Aug. 22 at Pass Christian Theatre Project

SEA COAST ECHO

The Pass Christian Theatre Project will open its fifth season with the Mississippi Gulf Coast premiere of The World Goes 'Round, a lively musical review showcasing the songs of John Kander and Fred Ebb. Comprised of songs from their hit shows and films Chicago, Cabaret, Funny Lady, Woman of the Year and numerous others, and crafted by David Thompson, Scott Ellis, and Susan Stroman, The World Goes 'Round received three Drama Desk awards for its original Off-Broadway production.

Frank Rich of The New York Times wrote "...The World Goes 'Round takes off like a shot in its very first number and rarely descends to earth." Music Theatre International says "Filled with humor, romance, drama and nonstop melody, this...is a thrilling celebration of life and the fighting spirit that keeps us all going.... The nonstop hit-parade features unforgettable gems, including 'Mister Cellophane,' 'Maybe This Time,' 'Cabaret' and 'New York, New York,' seamlessly interwoven into a passionate, harmonious, up-tempo evening of musical theatre."

Directed by Tara S. Davis, the cast includes Leslie Aube, Linda Aiavolasiti, Anita Giani, Will Koolsbergen, Elly Mauffrey, Lex Mauffrey, Mary Ellen Murphy, and Jim Rux.

The World Goes 'Round will open on August 22 at the Randolph Center at 315 Clark Avenue in Pass Christian. Performances will be at 7 pm on Thursday through Saturday August 22, 23, and 24. There will be one matinee performance at 2 pm on Sunday, August 25th. Tickets are $20.00 and are available at brownpapertickets.com/event/4302432 or can be reserved by calling 228-206-0857.

Common names complicate Long Beach Red radish search

DR. GARY R. BACHMAN
MSU EXTENSION SERVICE

One of the most fun things to do in the garden is to share stories. One of the best ones I have heard and shared is about my search for the long-lost Long Beach Red radish.

I shared the beginnings of this story last year in this column, and I've received many questions about the radish and its interesting story.

In the early 20th century, Long Beach was the radish capital of the world, and the main crop exported was the Long Beach Red radish. This radish was so long that it looked like a red carrot. The seeds were sent south, and impressive numbers of harvested radishes were shipped back north during the winter months -- up to 300 railroad boxcars a year. They were sliced and set out as bar snacks in northern saloons and beer halls. These radishes vanished after 1930 as other production areas became more economically competitive.

I found an heirloom radish last year called the Cincinnati Market radish, a red radish 6 to 7 inches long, bred in Ohio in the mid-1800s. The seed was shipped south to be grown, and the crop was sent back to the north in the winter. I was on the right track.

Since last year's column on the topic, I have discovered more information in my search for the Long Beach Red radish, so I thought it would be a good idea to share an update.

Heirloom plants can be called multiple names. This is likely the case for the Long Beach Red radish.

Common names can really muddy the water when looking for heirloom plants, as a specific plant can be called multiple names. I believe this is the case with the missing Long Beach Red radish.

Now, you'll have to stay with me for this next bit.

I recently received a lead from a new source that indicates the Cincinnati Market radish may also be called the Long Scarlet radish. The USDA National Plant Germplasm System identifies the Long Scarlet as an identifier of the Cincinnati Market radish.

Another source from the University of Minnesota (where, by the way, is housed a collection of old seed catalogs) has shared that there were several old varieties that had similar characteristics with names like Long Scarlet Short Top, Early Short Top Long Scarlet and, believe it or not, Market Gardener's Early Long Scarlet Short Top. Whew!

And while researching this topic, I found a reference to "The Tale of Peter Rabbit" by Beatrix Potter. According to the reference, naughty Peter Rabbit wasn't munching on a carrot when he got into Mr. McGregor's garden. The author wrote that Peter was eating a long, red radish -- and looking closely at the original illustration, it's clear from the foliage that he is, indeed, eating a radish. Could it be the radish I'm looking for? Geez, now I've gone down the literal rabbit hole.

Could the Cincinnati Market and Long Scarlet (and other name variants) be the same as the Long Beach Red radish? To make matters more confusing, I've found other references that use the common name Long Scarlet Cincinnati. All these radishes are described as being 6 to 7 inches long, red (isn't scarlet red?), with tender white flesh.

The search continues...

Maritime and Seafood Industry Museum now accepting Heritage Hall of Fame nominations

SEA COAST ECHO

The Maritime and Seafood Industry Museum (MSIM) announced today that it is accepting nominations to its Heritage Hall of Fame for the 2019 Class.

The Heritage Hall of Fame was established to recognize the contributions of individuals who have shown their dedication to honoring the tradition of the maritime and seafood industry on the Mississippi Coast.

Categories for nomination include Boat

Owner/Captain/Commercial Fisherman,

Commercial Seafood Processing Companies, Industry Tradesmen (which includes: Factory workers, factory owners, boat builder, trawl maker, blacksmith, and various trades that supported maritime purposes, supplier of products to the trade and any and all various related fields) and Boat Name. Nominations can be made by any person, as long as the nominator provides supporting information (required) about the nominee. There will be 15 inductees selected in three categories, and 5 inductees in the Commercial Seafood Processing Companies category.

Nomination deadline is August 30, 2019. Nomination requirements, criteria and nomination forms can be found at www.maritimemuseum.org.

The Induction ceremonies are set for October 26 from 1-3 p.m.

The Museum was established in 1986 to preserve and interpret the maritime history and heritage of Biloxi and the Mississippi Gulf Coast. It accomplishes this mission through exhibits, educational events, and hands on activities both outdoors and on the water.

About Feeding the Gulf Coast

Feeding the Gulf Coast, formerly Bay Area Food Bank, serves a 24-county area spanning south Alabama, south Mississippi and the Panhandle of Florida. Feeding the Gulf Coast is committed to ending hunger in the communities we serve, where at least one in six people struggle with chronic hunger. Feeding the Gulf Coast operates multiple hunger-relief and nutrition programs, including Summer Meals, Afterschool Meal, Backpack, Disaster Relief, Mobile Pantry and Produce Drop Distributions, Nutrition Education, and SNAP Outreach to help address food insecurity.

In 2018, the food bank distributed over 22 million meals to over 400 partner agencies—food pantries, soup kitchens, and other non-profit hunger relief organizations. Since its founding, Feeding the Gulf Coast has distributed more than 260 million pounds of food.

Feeding the Gulf Coast is a United Way member agency and a member of Feeding America.

Our vision is a hunger-free Central Gulf Coast.

OF A PROPOSAL TO SUPPORT
ACTIVITY IN THE 100-YEAR FLOODPLAIN
To: All Interested Agencies, Groups, and Individuals
This is to give notice that the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission proposes to undertake the following:
PORT BIENVILLE INDUSTRIAL PARK METHANOL FACILITY, RAIL LINE EXTENSION, AND DOCK INSTALLATION PROJECT
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is requesting the use of U.S. Department of the Treasury Resources and Ecosystems Sustainability, Tourist Opportunities, and Revived Economies (RESTORE) Act entitlement funding for construction of an airport hangar facility and other associated amenities for the Stennis Airport Hangar Facility Completion project.
In deciding whether to fund the proposed project, U.S. Department of the Treasury is obligated to follow requirements set forth by Section 2(a)(4) of Executive Order 11988 for Floodplain Management. This Notice of Intent is being provided in fulfillment of the aforementioned Executive Order.
The project site is located at Stennis International Airport in Kiln, Hancock County, Mississippi. It is located on the east side of Fred and Al Key Road, south of Texas Flat Road, east of Mississippi Highway 603, and south of the Jourdan River.
The Stennis Airport Hangar Facility Completion site (0.56 acre), 0.14 acre of which is located within the 100-year floodplain (Zone AE) as shown on Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) Community Panel 28045C0327D (dated October 16, 2009). The remaining 0.42 acre is located within the 500-year floodplain (Zone X) as shown on the same FIRM panel. Measures would be taken during construction work to ensure that construction is performed in a manner that minimizes any negative impact to the floodplain.
This request for comment is being submitted to the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency, Federal Emergency Management Agency, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, and Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality. In deciding whether to fund the proposed project, U.S. Department of the Treasury is obligated to follow requirements set forth by Section 2(a)(4) of Executive Order (E.O.) 11988 for Floodplain Management. This Notice of Intent is being provided in fulfillment of E.O. 11988.
The project site is located at Port Bienville Industrial Park (PBIP) in Pearlgrain, Hancock County, Mississippi. It is located approximately 1.34 miles south-southeast of Chef Menteur Highway (U.S. Highway 90), north of Port and Harbor Drive and west of Road G. The Port Bienville Industrial Canal is adjacent to the north of the project site.
The PBIP Methanol Facility, Rail Line Extension, and Dock Installation site is approximately 40.0 acres, all of which are located within the 100-year floodplain (Zone AE) as shown on Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) Community Panels 28045C0402D and 28045C0406D (dated October 16, 2009). Measurements would be taken during construction work to ensure that construction is performed in a manner that minimizes any negative impact to the floodplain.
This request for comment is being submitted to the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency, Federal Emergency Management Agency, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, and Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality. Members of the public are invited to submit comments on the proposed activity. Additional information on the proposed activity is available to the public between the hours of 8:00 am and 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday at the following location:

Forage producers fight weather, pests for crop

When scouting for armyworms, producers look for damage, such as this seen on signal grass at the Mississippi State University Coastal Plain Experiment Station in Newton on July 26, 2019. The discoloration is called frosting and is usually the first sign of armyworm presence.

MS. SUSAN M. COLLINS-SMITH
MSU EXTENSION SERVICE

RAYMOND, Miss. -- Mississippi forage producers can grow a bountiful crop, but they are fighting wet weather and pests to harvest all of it.

Rocky Lemus, forage and grazing specialist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service and researcher with the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station, said hay harvest is about 5% behind where it was this time last year.

"The wet weather we've had has kept us out of the field," he said. "So, we're a little behind."

Dr. Brett Rushing, MSU Extension forage specialist discusses the condition of forage crops in Mississippi on July 26, 2019.

Lemus said Mississippi grew about 10,000 fewer acres of hay than in 2018, putting the state's production at about 640,000 acres for 2019. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture Crop Progress and Condition Report released on July 28, the first cutting of cool-season hay is 99% complete. Pasture ground is rated 50% good, 31% fair and 13% excellent.

Producers in central and south Mississippi have plenty of hay and pasture grass this year.

"Growing it isn't a problem; it's getting the hay out of the field. We need some dry days so that we can cut, rake and bale it," said Brett Rushing, Extension forage specialist and Experiment Station researcher.

Moving hay out of the field becomes even more important as July winds down. Pests can invade forages, heavily damaging or wiping out crops intended to feed livestock through the winter.

Armyworms are the most devastating pest Mississippi producers encounter in forages, and their numbers begin to ramp up at the beginning of August. Left unchecked, they can destroy hay and pasture fields in just a few days because of their quick growth cycle. Armyworms can complete their life cycle in 60 days during the spring and fall, about 30 days during the summer and 90 days during the winter, depending on how cold it gets, Lemus said.

"I was scouting my summer annual trials and the armyworms have arrived along with sugar cane aphids," said Lemus, referring to forage test plots planted at the MSU R.R. Foil Plant Science Research Center, also called South Farm. "Producers should be checking their pastures and hay fields. Armyworms often invade grasses in wet areas and may become most abundant after flooding has occurred. Areas with high rainfall with a dense forage canopy can become areas for higher infestations."

Sugar cane aphids can overcome crops quickly. These nonnative pests require intensive scouting and multiple insecticide applications for management. Bermudagrass stem maggots, an invasive species recently established in the state, are plaguing hay fields, as well.

This pest interferes with stem growth and is particularly devastating to mid- and late-season harvests.

"Bermudagrass stem maggots are problematic this year, and they are here to stay," said Rushing, who is based at the Coastal Plain Branch Experiment Station in Newton.

"The good news is diligent scouting and using best management practices can keep producers from losing crops. We've learned better ways to manage them. We now have better products, and we've learned better timing and rates of insecticide application. But the weather has to cooperate so that we can get in the field and make the applications at the right time."

Rushing said he expects a good year for fall forages if rains come at the right times.

"We should have a good fall as long as the moisture trends continue," he said. "If that happens, we'll be in good shape."

Extension Publication 2717, "Fall Armyworms in Hayfields and Pastures," provides more information about armyworms. Find it at <https://bit.ly/2YDJcVU>.

For more information on scouting and control of Bermudagrass stem maggots, refer to page 113 of Extension Publication 2471, "2019 Insect Control Guide for Agronomic Crops."

Visit the Extension website at <https://bit.ly/333GNTV> for more information on both pests.

Booker Fest at 100 Men Hall

SEA COAST ECHO

The 100 Men Hall launches its first annual Booker Fest to celebrate the musical genius of James Booker. Booker Fest starts Friday, August 30, 2019 at 8PM and ends on Saturday, August 31, 2019 at midnight. The festival features a rollicking good-time itinerary that allows festivalgoers to enjoy the Hall as well as Bay Saint Louis. A very limited amount of lucky campers will be allowed to pitch a tent onsite!

Booker Fest is designed to bring awareness to one of town's most gifted artists - James Carroll Booker III (December 17, 1939 - November 8, 1983), who was raised by his aunt in Bay Saint Louis. Booker played with the St. Rose de Lima gospel choir and on the historic stage at the 100 Men Hall. Booker Fest will include a gospel tribute by the esteemed St. Rose de Lima choir and a piano tribute by two of New Orleans greatest pianists, Tom McDermott and Josh Paxton, a screening of Lily Keber's acclaimed documentary on Booker, Bayou Maharajah, as well as reflections on Booker by Ellis Anderson of Shoofly Magazine, ending with a hip-shaking dance party headlined by Cuban percussionist Alexey Martí with Jorge Perez, Paolo Castanogli and Oscar Rossignoli.

The Fest is intended as an annual fundraiser for the maintenance and preservation of the 100 Men Hall and also to attract regional, national and international attention to this African American landmark, one of the few standing buildings on the Mississippi Blues Trail. The event will happen Labor Day weekend and allows primitive camping for the first time in the historic district of Bay Saint Louis at 100 Men Hall.

A wristband allows entry to ALL of the events - $25 in advance here:

<https://the100menhall.com/products/james-booker-festival> or $30 at door. All tickets will be Will Call and wristbands will be given at the door.
